

Beware of Fake, Scam and Phishing Email

---

We have learned that someone is sending fake emails purportedly in the name of Kobelco Engineered Construction Materials Co.,Ltd. and our president. These email messages, which appear to be sent by our company, ask recipients to reply with personal information. Please note that Kobelco Engineered Construction Materials has absolutely nothing to do with these email messages.

By replying to this type of email, you may run the risk of money transfer fraud, phishing and other scams. Your ID numbers, passwords and other important personal information may be stolen, and you also expose yourself to virus infection.

- Do not reply to fake email messages.
- Do not access dubious Web sites.
- Delete scam mail from your computer.

If you would like to confirm any messages, please contact us through the link below.
